ABHAY PANDEY

Front-end Developer

I'm Abhay Pandey, and I am a law student who is also a geek at heart. I have been working in the field of web development for the past three years. My journey's tale is really intriguing; I live in a rural location, and in 2011 I googled the name of my village and found nothing; then I decided that one day I would construct a website for my village, which is why I learnt HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.
